

Changing your Preferred Domain

A preferred domain is the version of your domain that you would like your visitors to land on.

i.e www.example.com and example.com are two different versions of your domain. Setting the preferred domain to www.example.com will ensure all traffic from both example.com and www.example.com will go to www.example.com.
