Unsplash Image Tracking on Pagecloud

When you use an Unsplash image on your Pagecloud site, we include a tracking script that sends usage data back to Unsplash. This is how we provide free access to their high-quality images and it provides Unsplash with valuable insights into image usage patterns.

Please note that this tracking is solely for the purpose of image usage analytics and does not collect any personal or sensitive data from your site visitors. Your privacy and that of your visitors remain our top priority.
